FINAL JUDGMENT

THIS CAUSE came before the court upon the Former Wife's Petition for Determination of Non-Dischargeable Debts and Objection to the Discharge of Certain Debts. Having reviewed the pleadings, heard testimony of the Former Wife and arguments of counsel, the court finds:

1. William E. Glenn, as the result of the Marital Settlement Agreement entered into by the parties on December 21, 1990, which was incorporated into a Final Judgment of Dissolution of Marriage, dated February 15, 1991, has an alimony obligation to Maxine C. Glenn to pay in full those creditors cited in the Agreement to whom Maxine C. Glenn has any liability.

2. William E. Glenn agreed at the hearing those debts for which Maxine C. Glenn has any liability and which are included in the Marital Settlement Agreement are not dischargeable since those debts are alimony obligations.

Therefore, it is ORDERED and ADJUDGED that these debts for which William E. Glenn assumed liability in the Marital Settlement Agreement and for which Maxine C. Glenn has any liability are not dischargeable; and that William E. Glenn is liable to Maxine C. Glenn if these creditors seek payment from her.

DONE and ORDERED in Chambers, at Tallahassee, Leon County, Florida this 5th day of February, 1992.
